Head's Update

Keeping you informed: Miss Kaur—Headteacher

Monday 24th February 2020

Dear parents/carers

Welcome back after the half term break. Despite the windy weather, I hope you all enjoyed some quality time with family and friends. Unbelievably, we are halfway through the academic year already! I am really looking forward to some warmer weather and lighter evenings!

In January we rolled out our new curriculum. The children have been inspired, motivated and keen to learn even more! Thank you to all parents and carers who attended our open afternoon last term. The children loved sharing their learning with you. Please do take time to read all about which thought-provoking projects are being taught this term. All of this information was Parentmailed out to you before we broke up for half term. Here is a reminder of the projects this half term :

Year 3- Rocks, relics and rumbles

Year 4- Potions

Year 5- Beast creator

Year 6- Darwin's delights

Please keep an eye open for our annual parent survey which will be Parentmailed out to you this week. We really do appreciate your opinions on SEJ and its initiatives. Once we have the responses back, I will share the analysis with you in my next 'Head's Update'.

Term 4 is another incredibly busy one with parents' evenings, a cluster cross country event and Year 4 taking to the stage with their production called 'Alice the musical'. Look out for the parents' evening appointments going live so that you can book your slot online. I look forward to seeing you there.

World Book Day is on March 5th and we have an author visiting school called Neil Cameron. The children are all encouraged to dress up as their heroes and heroines.

A huge thank you to both Annabel and Victor for being outstanding in their roles as head boy and girl. The blazers have been handed over to Dixie and Josh who I am sure will be as equally as amazing! Good luck guys!

This term our value is Pride. What do you take pride in? As always, the children will be encouraged to take pride in their learning on a daily basis, and aspire to be our pride 'values ambassadors'.

See you at the gate!
